

Marketing Director

THE ROLE

To grow our international market presence and lead our marketing team, we are looking for a talented and dynamic Marketing Director with a strategic mindset and strong experience in B2B marketing.

In this role you develop and implement strategies to drive all marketing and communication related activities (on- and offline, PR, content / editorial calendar, events, sales materials...). You work in English and German and lead a growing team of up to 10 internal and external team members.

If you have a proven track-record in successfully executing B2B marketing strategies, managing teams in a high-growth environment and have a hands-on management style with a do-it-yourself mentality and deep know-how of the latest marketing tech stacks, we are looking forward to meeting you!

THE COMPANY
